

About McCourts

Since its inception in 1981, McCourts has been at the forefront of the development of High Performance Teams. Our experience ranges from the boardroom to the shop floor and from academic institutions to international agencies. The principles and know-how, which have been refined and developed over two decades, focus on the growth and development of skill in people linked to the delivery of key business objectives.

Although originating from work done primarily in manufacturing and process industries, subsequent work in the financial, service, leisure and public sectors has demonstrated that these principles are universal. Not only do they cross sector borders - they also cross national ones.

We have worked with many of the top companies around the world. Recent and current clients include: 3M; Adsteam; AstraZeneca; Baxters Health Care; Bechtel; Centrica; Channel Tunnel Rail Link; ConocoPhillips; DuPont; Exxon Mobil; Glaxo Smith Kline; Huntsman; ICI; Medtronic; NHS, Norwich Union; Network Rail; Shell; Smith & Nephew; The Red Cross; Transco; VW Audi.

The organisation is growing and currently comprises more than 30 consultants.
